Jacksonites Accept Responsibilities,

In the community each student had a part in building the reputation of Jackson's third year. Students were jovial as they stood on the corner of Miami and Ireland flagging down cars for a car wash. They were responsible on the job, whether at a gas station, a grocery store, or babysitting. They were determined as they sold Junior Achievement products door to door. They were concerned about their community and spent many hours tutoring neighborhood children, helping in hospitals, and aiding the "Y" youth department.

At 3:15 excitement changed the mood of 1330 students as buses, cars, motorcycles, and feet carried noisy students to Broadmoor Shopping Center, Mr. Quick's, and the Red Barn for snacks. Books stacked on the back seat, the counter at Woolworth's, or piled on someone's lap were forgotten for a while. Forgotten, but not ignored, for after the last french fry had been eaten and the coke finished they would soon be taken home for a few hours of study.

AT THE ANNUAL Youth for Christ banquet, Miss America of 1966 Debbie Bryant crowns Rita Roberts as Princess. Barry Naragon (left) reigns as Prince. Pleased with the selection is Mr. George Phillips, St. Joseph County YFC director.

Win Honors

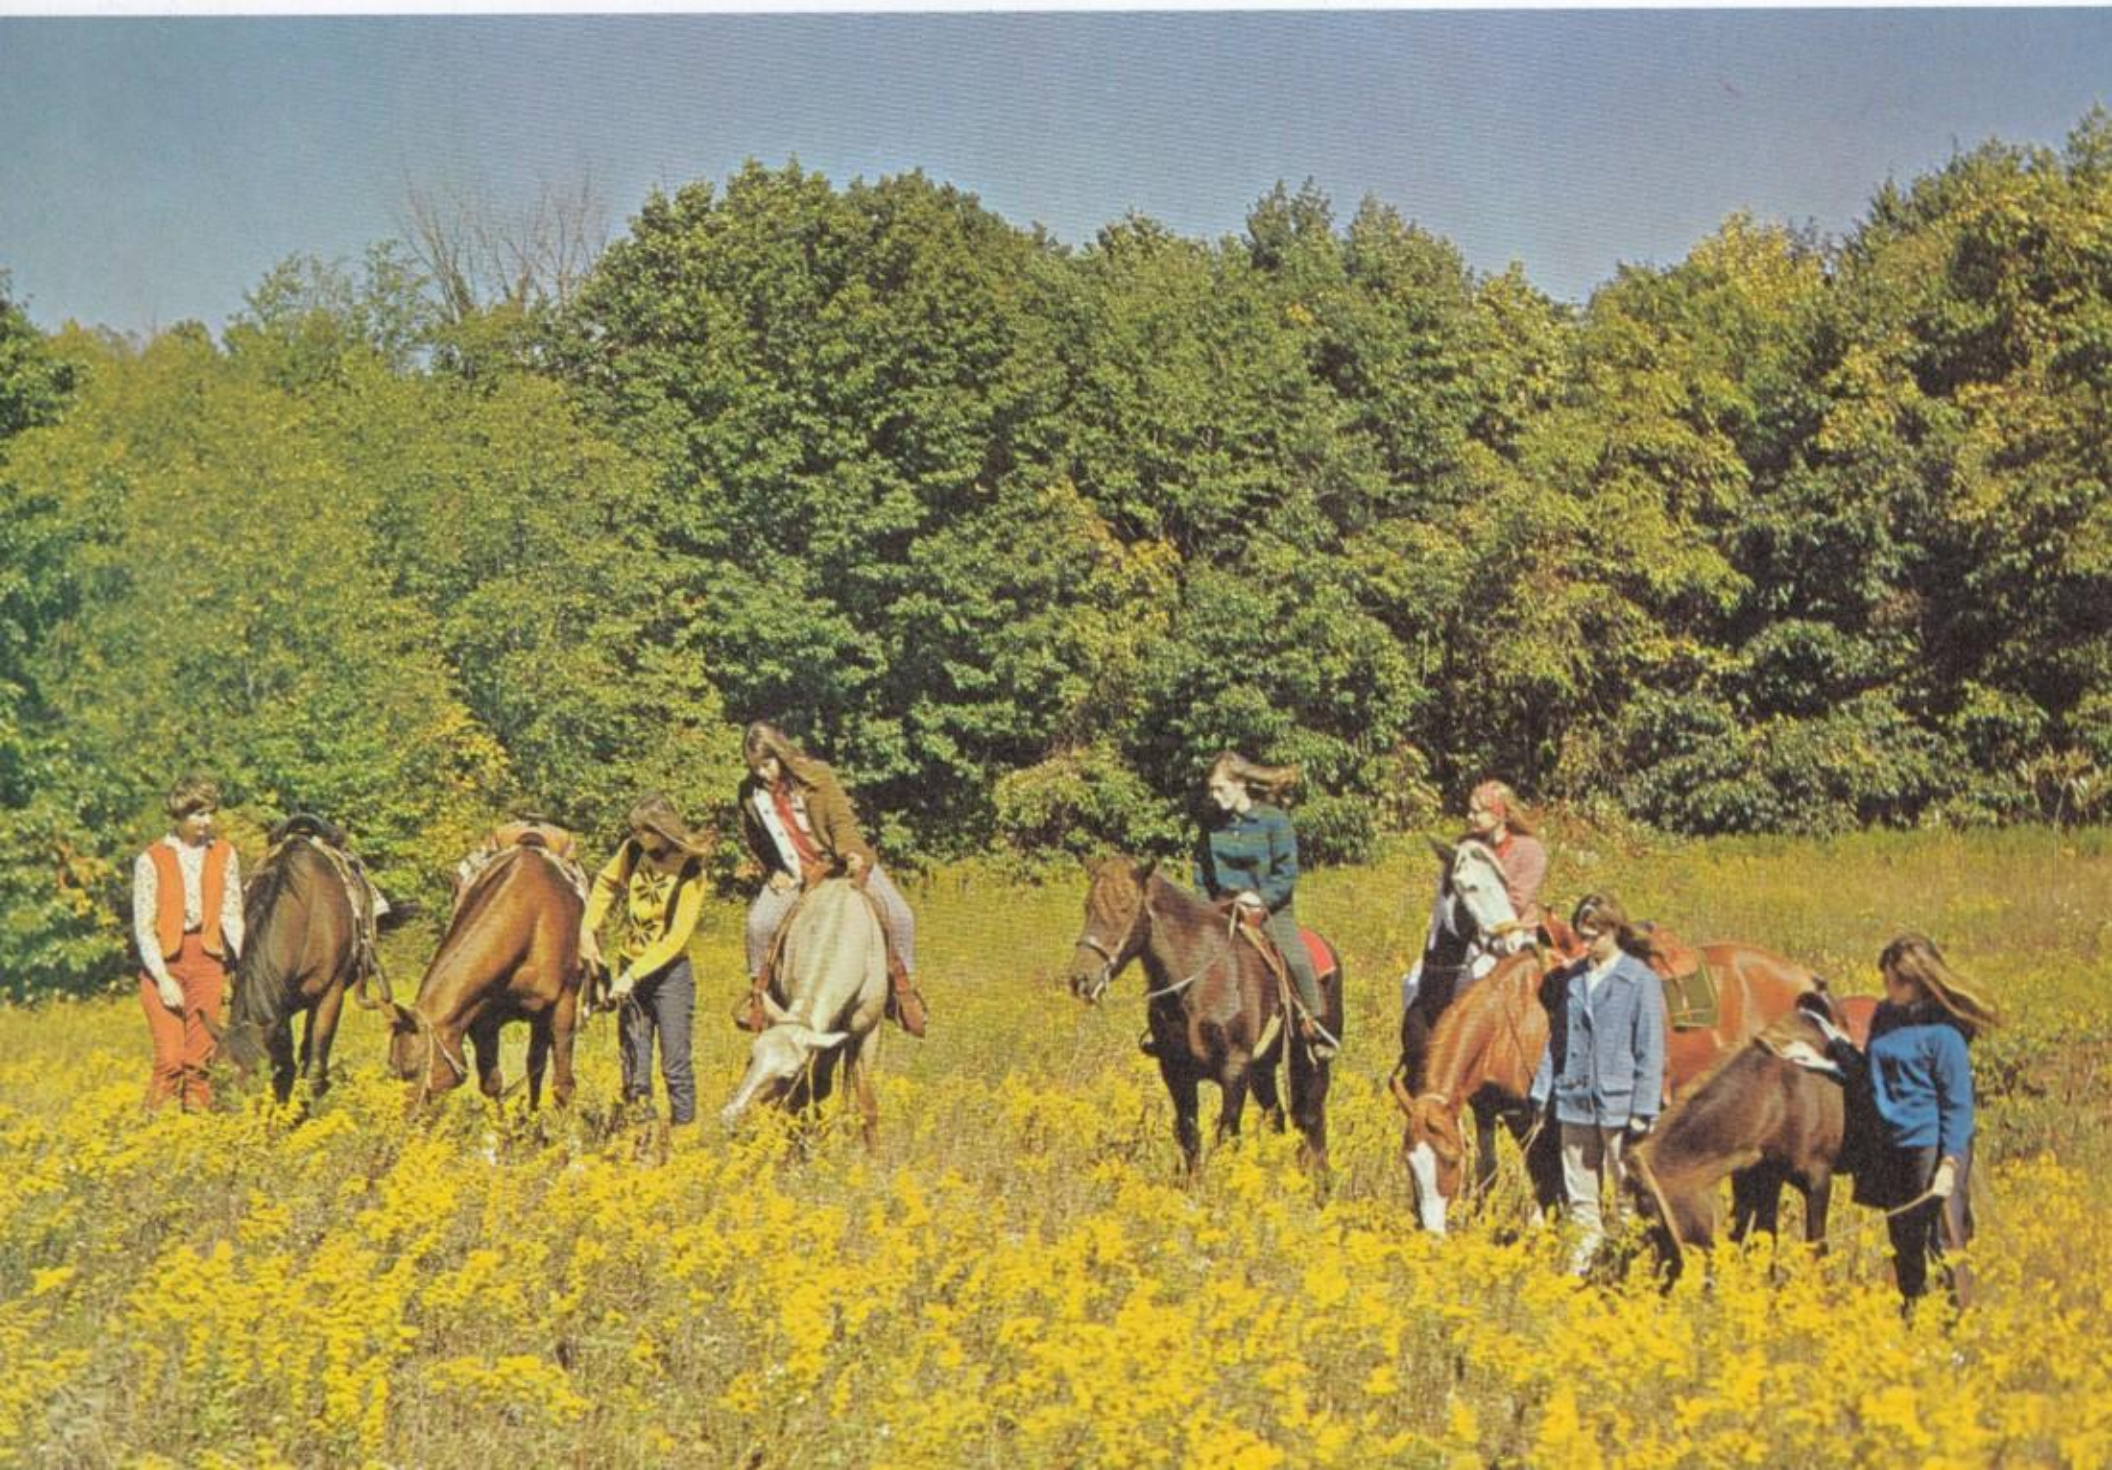
Downtown Parade, Race, Indoor Canoeing

IN A PARADE for the ground-breaking of South Bend's City-County Building, the band marches down Lafayette street. Jackson musicians played the "Star Spangled Banner" at the ceremony.

"Come on, let's catch this one," he shouted as he paddled out on his surfboard. A wave. A wave that captured his determination and carried his pride. This was one student's interpretation of the 1967 year.

Coming to school on the first day, meeting new teachers, seeing friends, and getting books was like meeting this challenging wave. Hectic hours over Christmas vacation to finish term papers, midterms to study for, and books to read were like the wave moving closer and closer, ready to fall . . .

Proms, graduation ceremonies, and finals were graciously accepted as students were victorious against this wave. Proudly they looked forward to another year, a n o t h e r wave, and another challenge. A challenge that required more knowledge, more maturity, and more individualism from each student. The time was here and now.



LIVING IN THE COUNTRY has one big advantage, say horselovers Terrie Morrison, Jane Berta, Karen Wanstall, Ann Hawkins, Becky Hazlitt, Kathy Kline, and Cindy Bell. Many autumn weekends were spent at the Morrisons' racing or practicing horsemanship. Result: blue ribbons at the 4-H horse show and rosy cheeks as South Bend's weather grew colder.

Add Interest

SPORTING TEACHERS volunteered to run a mile relay race if the student body reached the $2,000 AFS goal. The goal was surpassed; they kept their promise. Mr. DeShone led with the drum, followed by Mr. Ganser on a bicycle, Mr. Meilstrup, Mr. Thomas in the bathrobe, Mr. Gartee, Mr. Krietzman and Mr. Herczeg.

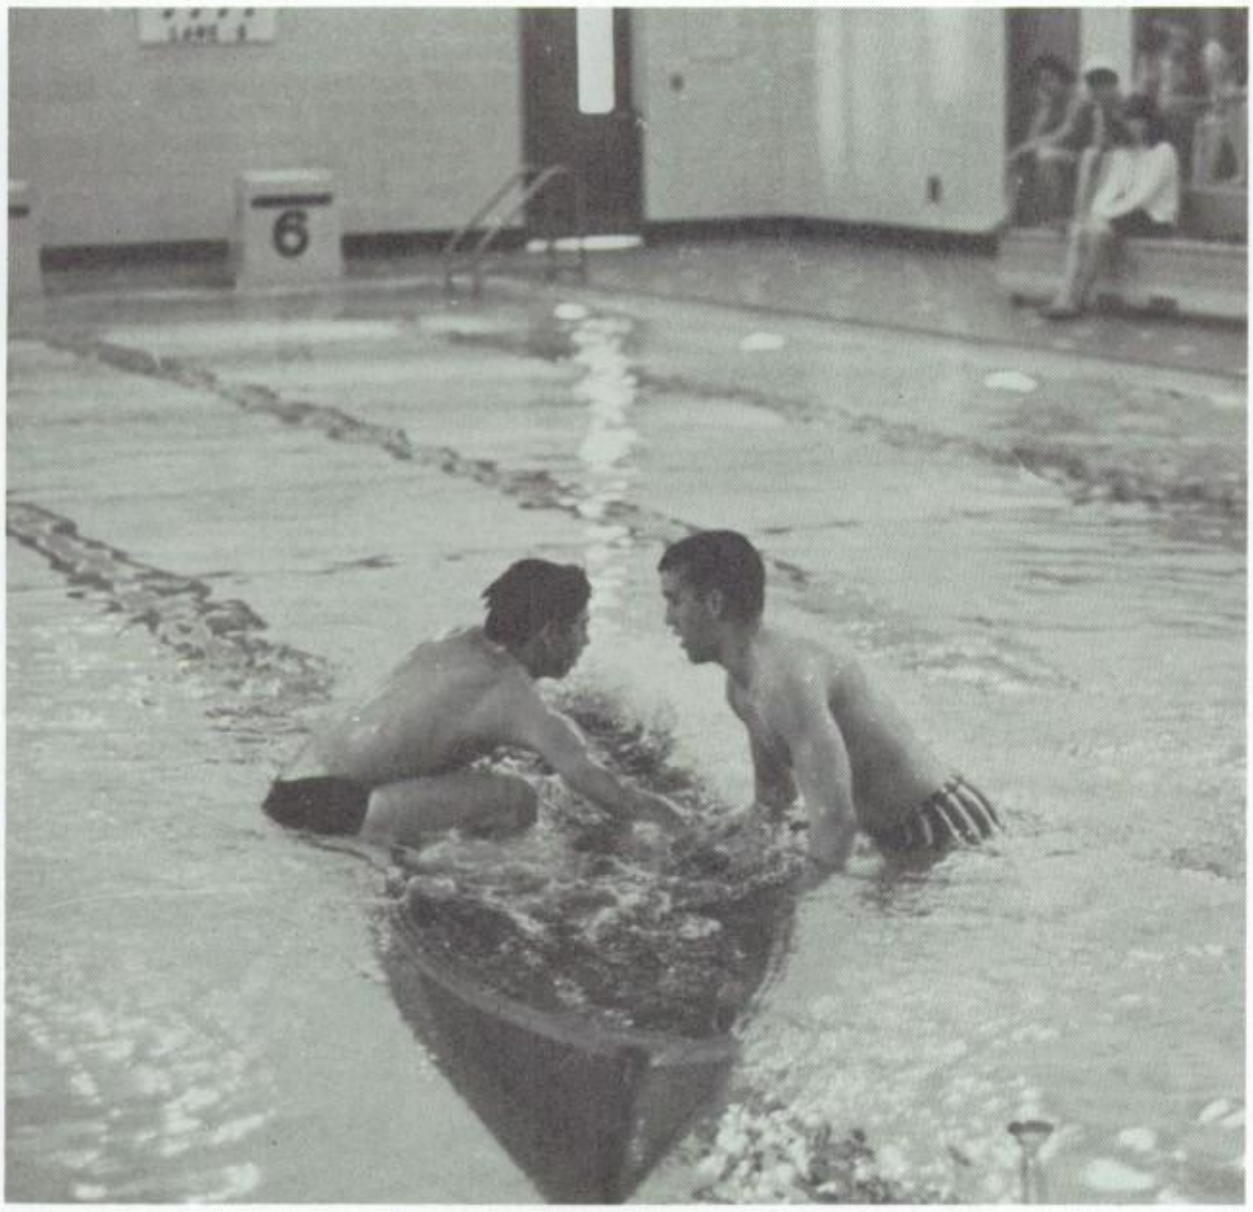
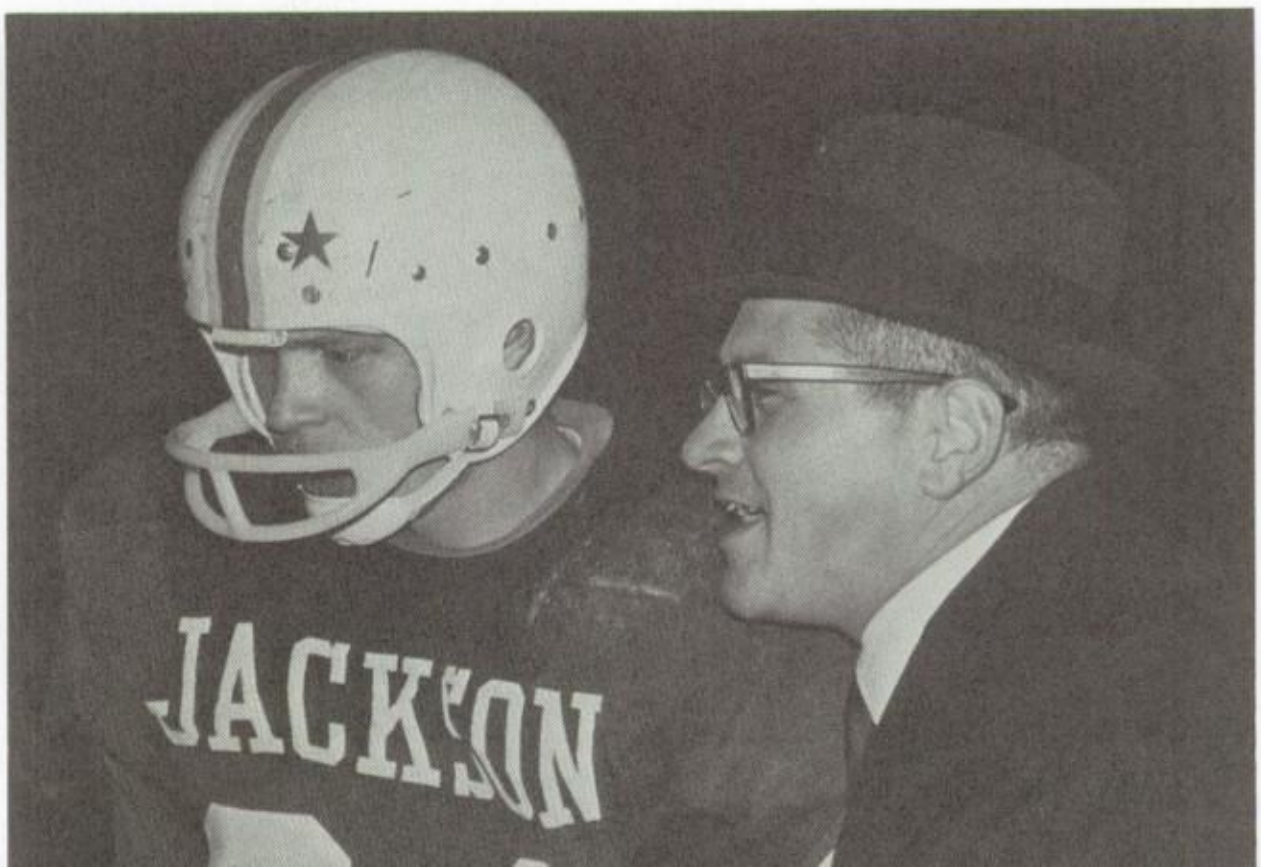
RELUCTANTLY Marv Brandt shells out 50 cents extra, the penalty for not buying his ticket at school.



SUBMERGED CANOE in school pool teaches swimming classes about boating safety.

LUSTILY shouting her approval, Pam Seaborg watches Lucian Krawczyk make the first break through the hoop. Enthusiasm was projected by posters throughout the school encouraging school spirit.

BETWEEN PLAYS, senior guard Tim Kulik listens intently as Coach Gartee explains change in game strategy.



Athletic Events Have Plenty of 'Hoop-La'

As much a part of school life as the classroom activities was the feeling of "school spirit" and pride in the athletic teams. Long and tedious practice hours spent by each boy and coach were rewarded by that thunderous cheer from the crowd as the paper hoop exploded with players ready to earn another victory for Jackson.

Students were busy in many ways expanding this enthusiasm throughout the school. Preparations were being made for the football and basketball homecomings; the band practiced to perfect its half-time shows, and cheerleaders and Booster Club members designed hoops. Freshmen added new ideas and devoted much time to building props for pep session skits.

Signs and posters urging team support were faithfully followed. Three busloads of Jacksonites were at the Concord football game despite 40° temperatures and heavy rain.

Good sportsmanship, both in victory and defeat, was all a part of this school spirit which reached its peak in 1968.

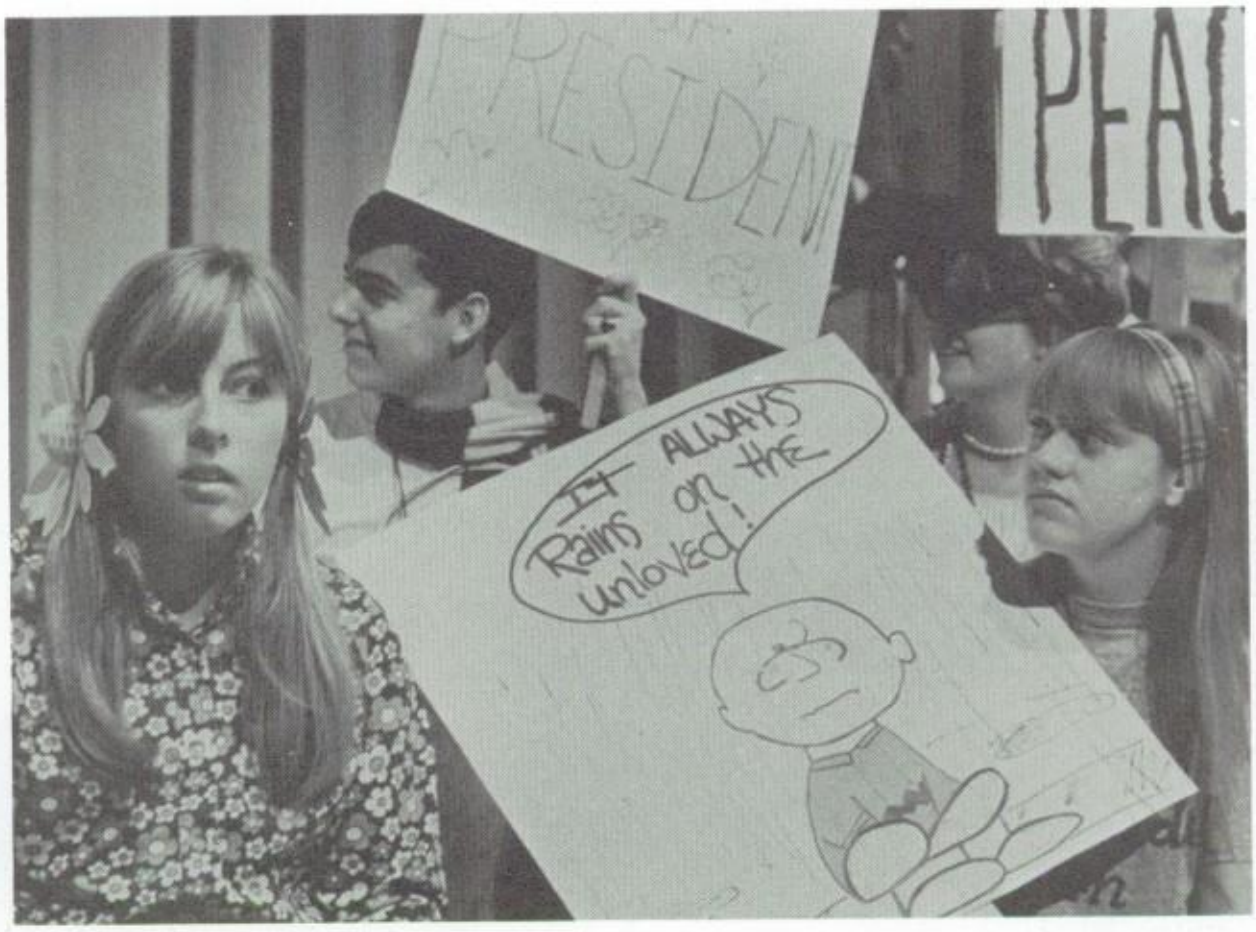
Everyone Finds Different Way to Relax

Here and now was the time of the Hippie generation. It was an opportunity for Jacksonites to discover new images. Students in mini-skirts, square-toed shoes, and long hair or falls were a part of this movement. The soul music brought meaning to those who attended the Coop, Top Deck, and Stepan Center. Concerts with the Four Seasons, James Brown, and the Fifth Dimension aroused the rhythm of youth. Movies like "The Trip" and "Hell's Angels on Wheels" made one aware of images. This was the Jackson way of individualism here.



IMITATING the Haight-Ashbury generation, these peace-loving Hippies need the stimulation of Jackson publications to turn them on. Among them are Mary McDermott, Terry Vander Heyden, Cathy Kocy, and Becky Hygh.

SUPER-PUB, in reality mild-mannered senior Jim Powell, turns Hippies' "love-in" into a "read-in" at the publications assembly.

HERE AND NOW

Administration Urges Ever Higher Goals

FATHER of the bride is a role Mr. Early enjoys, even in the rain.

ASSUMING the administrative responsibilities for his third year is Principal James L. Early.

ALL PHASES of student life are under the jurisdiction of Mr. Philip Ell, assistant principal.

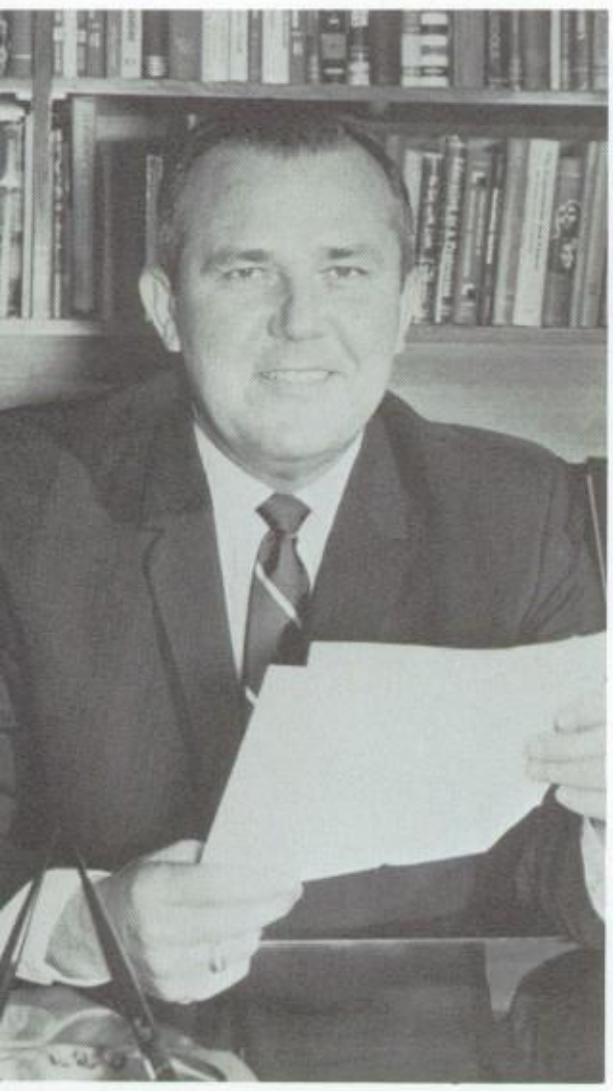
for Academic Achievement at Jackson

The administration was responsible for making and carrying out the policies of the school. Principal James Early and Assistant Principal Phillip Ell headed a staff of 56 teachers which was a 20 percent increase from last year.

Jackson was one of 49 schools in the South Bend Community School Corporation headed by Dr. Charles C. Holt. This year was Dr. Holt's second year as superintendent and Jackson's third year of existence.

With the academic interest of the student body in mind, the administration offered various courses of study. These were college preparatory, which included math, science, English, and foreign language; commercial, which included bookkeeping, typing, and shorthand; general and trade.

The main business of the school was academics—in the classroom, the shop, and the lab.



AS THE SUPERINTENDENT of SBCSC, Dr. Charles C. Holt sought to uphold high standards in spite of this year's budget cuts.

GUIDING JACKSONITES into courses of study suggested by their interests and abilities were counselors Mr. Everett Holmgren, Mrs. Sylvia Kercher, and Mr. Lee Weldy. They conducted tests, interpreted results to students, and arranged college interviews.

SETTING THE TONE of graciousness in Jackson's inner offices with floral arrangements and seasonal decorations are Mrs. Charlotte Mikel, secretary for Mr. Early; Mrs. Phyllis Madden, secretary in charge of the bookstore and other financial matters; Mrs. Mary Widner, attendance clerk; and Mrs. Georgiana Bueher, guidance office clerk.

Upperclasses Learn 1,000 Vocabulary Words

WILL IT BE THE Lady or the Tiger? Frank Stockton's classic has long been a puzzle to Freshmen English classes. Recreating the provocative story are Sue Scott, Lynn Schenck, Tami Nelson, and Kitty Gates.

A stutter in the middle of an important speech . . . a grammar error in a theme . . . the rush to hand in a book report . . . these experiences were part of a very important subject for Jacksonites . . . English.

Reading requirements included essays, biographies, and famous novels such as A Tale of Two Cities, Red Badge of Courage, Walden, Great Expectations, and even The Adventures of Alice in Wonderland. Students also studied such authors as Shakespeare, Hawthorne, Poe, Hemingway, and Jack London.

One of the main goals of the English course was to make the student aware of symbolism and its effect on a story and the characters, as in The Scarlet Letter.

Junior and Senior English classes stressed the importance of vocabulary words as each student learned about 1000 new words a year. The English students were accepting the importance of the art of communication in the world of yesterday and today.

Having mastered the communication art, they were able to give speeches, produce dramas, and write better themes. Senior English also required a term paper.

Math Skills Lead Students Toward Careers

Through deductive and inductive thinking, students began to realize the importance of mathematics in their everyday reasoning. The main goal of math classes was to teach not only how to do math but also the "why" of mathematics."

Theorems, postulates, and corollaries that had to be proved in geometry had new applications in Algebra II., calculus, and trigonometry.

Equations, triangles, trapezoids, inequalities, polynomials, fractions, and the Binomial Theorem challenged the student and gave him an introduction to the vast field of mathematics.

Skills acquired through the basic understanding of math have helped many students in choosing successful careers in art, industry, engineering, science, and operating computers.

Many interested students participated in summer institutes at area colleges to expand their mathematical abilities.

World of Discovery Opens to Scientists

What was the prehistoric world really like? Students in Bio-Physical Science made a model of this period with miniature volcanoes and dinosaurs made out of clay, papier mache, and plaster of Paris. Biology I. classes also studied the beginning of the earth and became acquainted with Darwin's Theory of Evolution.

Chemistry students were more careful during second semester in the labs. A new regulation stated that any students who broke or damaged any equipment must pay for it. All lab students were required to wear protective glasses.

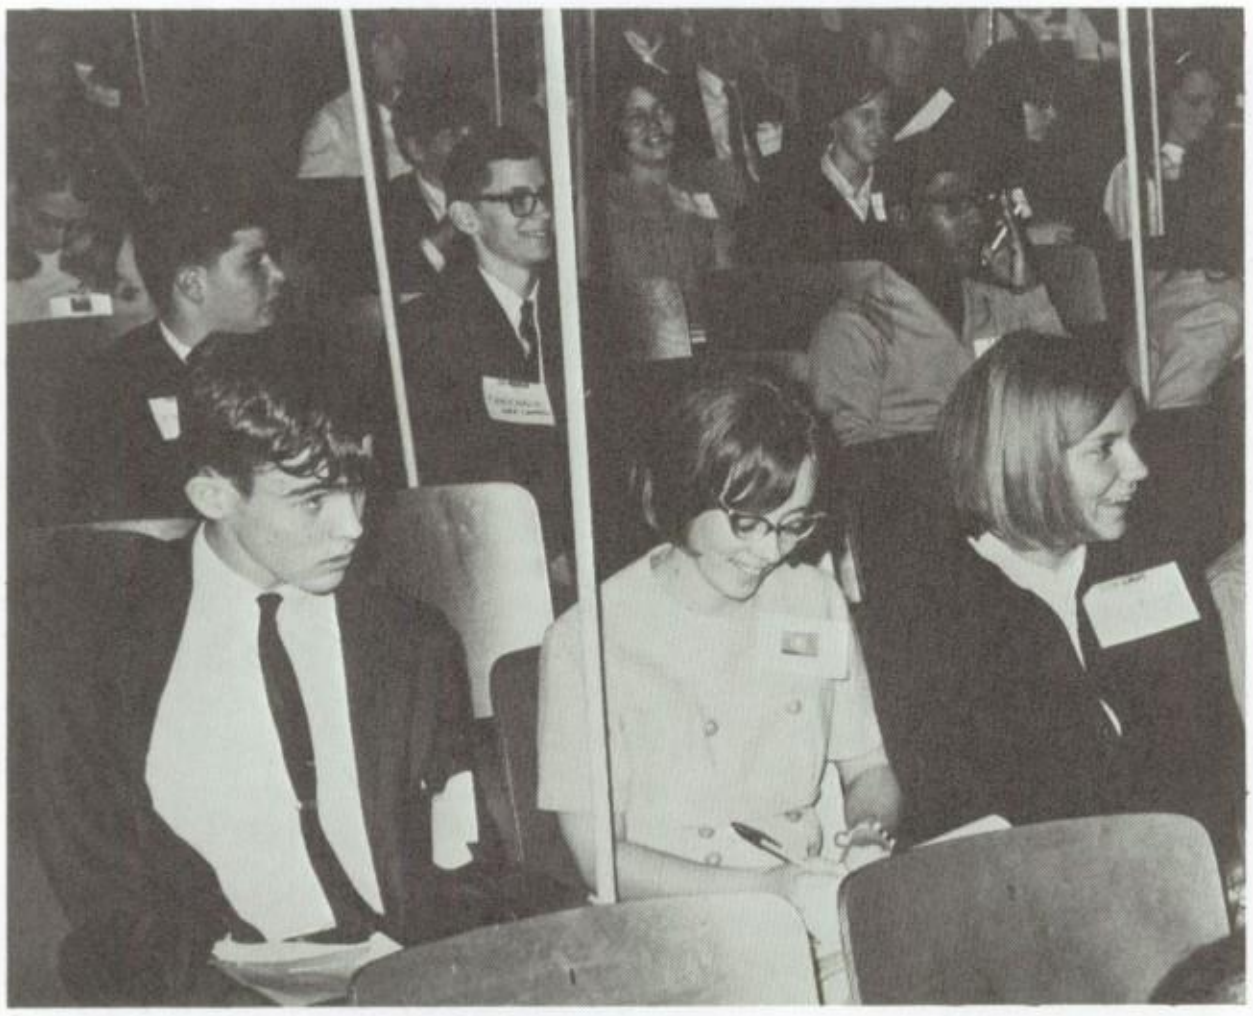
Insights Come From Negro History Week,



THE PORTUGAL DELEGATION to the Model U.N. held at Riley High School includes David Grenert, Judy DeBuck, and Vicki Arch. In the background are Sue Ryon and Linda Shoemaker representing Yugoslavia.

February 11-17 was Negro History Week. The activities included tapes, filmstrips, records, and movies on the history of the Negro and famous Negro personalities. Concluding the week, local high school students in grades 10, 11, and 12 participated in a Negro History Conference at Notre Dame. Guest speakers included Mayor Richard Hatcher of Gary, Jesse Dickinson, executive director of S.B. Public Housing Authority, and Maulana Karenga of Los Angeles.

Interested history students participated in the Model United Nations Assembly at Riley High School. Discussions centered on the reorganization of the United Nations, racial problems in Southern Africa, and the admission of Red China to the U.N. Under the direction of Mr. Stephen Herczeg, students prepared by doing research on the background, problems, current issues, and previous voting records in the United Nations of the individual country.

Foreign Language Courses Include Study

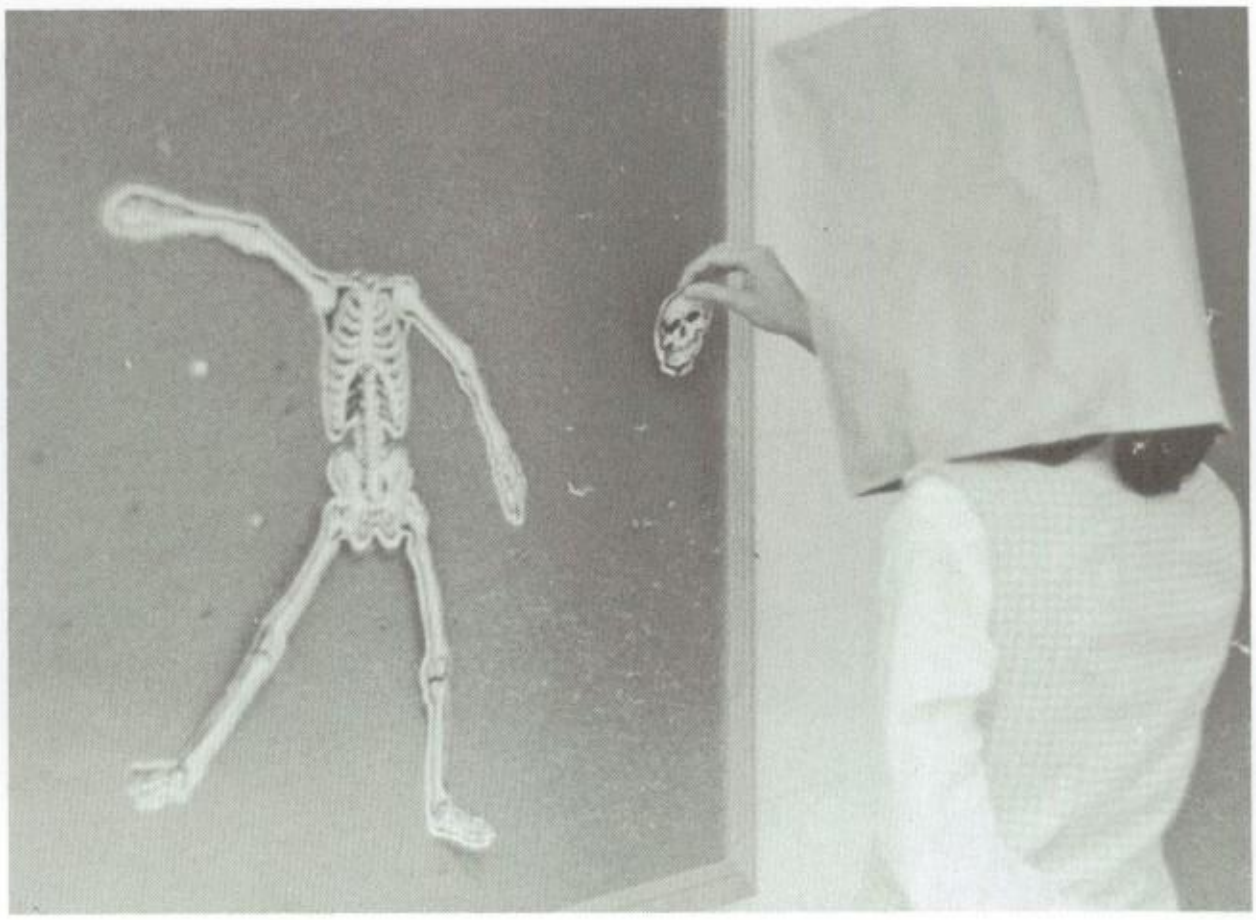
"Basically we were there to study the Roman world of two thousand years ago and observe the modern European civilization that developed from it."

"During the whole stay we were instructed to speak only French."

Two Jacksonites, Lauren Whisler and Dan McGill, had the opportunity to visit countries they had studied in school as members of the Indiana University Honors Program. Lauren visited France and Dan went to Venice, Florence, and Rome.

Foreign language was an elective to students, but two years were required for college admittance. In the first year of a language each student learned the basic grammar, which included vocabulary, noun declensions, and sentence structure. Spanish classes spent much time in memorizing conversations to recite orally. German classes studied the customs, geography, schools, and the economics of Germany. Latin classes translated Caesar's "Gallic War" and Vergil's "Aneid."

The language lab gave the student and the teacher an idea of how well the student knew the language. Oral tests and drills kept students on their toes for they never knew when the teacher might "tune in."



OBSERVING THE DAY OF THE DEAD, Spanish classes play pin the head on the skeleton (right). Cathy Huguenard (above) examines a casket.

Data Processing Joins Business Courses;

Business courses this year included Bookkeeping 1. and II., Typing, Office Training, Shorthand, Business Relations, and Business Communications.

Data processing was new in Office Training II. Students visited Cline School to learn how to operate a key punch machine. The key punch is used for IBM cards.

Through various business courses seniors were given opportunities to train for their careers and attend school at the same time. They received credit for classes and jobs.

Seven senior girls participated in the Business Cooperative program. They attended school half days and in the afternoons went to jobs in offices where they gained experience in many specialized areas.

Diversified Cooperative Education or DCE was another such activity. The program was headed by Mr. Donald Baldridge. There were 26 members.

EVEN THE MOST SKILLED typist will make a mistake as Sandy Sprunger learns.

Taught in Industrial Arts

Industrial arts courses offered both boys and girls valuable experience. In mechanical drawing, T-squares, graph paper, and a slide rule were essential for any architectural designing.

Machine shop boys learned to operate wood lathes, metal lathes, drill presses, and welding equipment. Auto mechanics, a two-period class, was spent entirely on learning parts of engines and working on cars. Learning to use different types of wood, woodworking classes built shelves, book-ends, and skis.

Parents, Jackson Girls View Style Show;

Modeling their own dresses, girls in clothing classes participated in the second annual style show open to parents and Jackson girls. Fashions included shirtwaist dresses, jumpers, coats, and suits. Girls in advanced clothing were required to make something for the home such as draperies and bedspreads.

The delicious aromas that filled the halls and floated into nearby classrooms came from rooms 205 and 207. Cooking classes were busy following recipes, balancing and planning meals, and learning table etiquette.

FAMILY LIVING CLASS offered senior boys a chance to enroll in a home economics course.

Art Classes Try Pop Art, Impressionism;

Art classes gave students a chance to be creative on paper, on canvas, or with clay. Talents were expressed in paintings, whether abstract, psychedelic, or still life. Students learned to express different emotions, ideas, and motions by using different colors.

Many students made collages. These consisted of magazine cutouts of different colors and textures to create images or make pictures.

Eight art courses were offered this year. These included Painting, Ceramics and Sculpture, Drawing-Graphics, Commercial Art, Basic Art, Functions and History of Art, Creative Crafts, and Advanced Art. Mr. Philip Wolf was a new staff addition to the art department.

Annual art exhibits at Jackson and the Scholastic Art Show gave students recognition for their work. Jane Berta received a Hallmark award for a mixed media painting which was sent to New York for further competition.

Enhance School Activities

The Choraliers were the newest addition to the musical groups this year. Made up of twenty voices, the group sang mostly pop songs and often performed outside of school. Their Christmas program was presented on television and to the student body.

Miss Donna Brewer, a former member of Henri Mancini's orchestra, directed the orchestra until she resigned in January. Her position was filled by Mr. Rocco Germano who was also Glee Club director at Riley High School.

Glee Club, which was considered a solid, was composed of 86 members who came to school each morning at 7:20 to practice. Senior Linda Wallen accompanied the Glee Club and Choraliers on the piano.

The band was led by two First Class drum majors, Rick Overgaard and Jeff Bayman. There was only one other school in the United States and Canada with two First Class drum majors. Seven male members of the band formed the Overtone Brass which played many Dixieland tunes. The band, under Mr. DeShone, won a state, "Superior" rating.

THOMAS DeSHONE . . . Band . . . in charge of dance and pep band . . . likes to travel . . . water skis.

A large part of the year was spent in the swimming pool. Both girls and boys learned to perfect their swimming and water safety skills. Students acted as pool assistants and helped with classes.

Every other year the Red Cross, in cooperation with the P.E. department, gives a special program on water safety. Proper use of safety belts and life jackets are shown.

A strong and healthy body was important to every health student. Many hours were spent in learning the names of muscles and bones of the human anatomy and keeping physically fit by exercise. Safety rules were stressed throughout the year. Many movies were shown on open heart surgery, alcohol, and smoking.

Safety Check,

Leadership and service characterized this year's Student Council. Headed by the United Students Party, the council contributed much to Jackson accomplishments.

During the spring Safety Check campaign sponsored by the South Bend Police Department, the council, led by Doug Jessup, constructed a graveyard of crosses.

Thirty families were provided with canned goods and turkeys as a part of the Thanksgiving Basket Drive. Over 3,840 pounds of food and $335 were collected.

Foreign exchange students Sanjay Gupte and Yvonne Jacobs spent the year at Jackson as a result of the sucessful AFS Drive.

Car registration was initiated under the direction of John Trenkner. Each motorist driving to school was required to give his license number and a description of his car.

FIRST PRIZE and $350 went to the Jackson Student Council for the Outdoor display during the Safety Check Campaign. A graveyard of 1500 crosses represented the year's traffic fatalities. An oilcloth sign warned motorists to "check your car . . . or pick your plot!"

in 'Crucible'

The Jackson Players staged two productions this year, "The Crucible" and "Oliver." "The Crucible," written by Arthur Miller, centered on the 17th century Salem witch trials and the effects on the citizens of Salem. "Oliver" was a musical version of Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist."

Membership to the Jackson Players was open to students whose services were rewarding to productions. As members of the Players, students accumulated points by working behind the scenes or performing on stage. After enough points had been compiled, a Player was eligible for membership in Thespians.

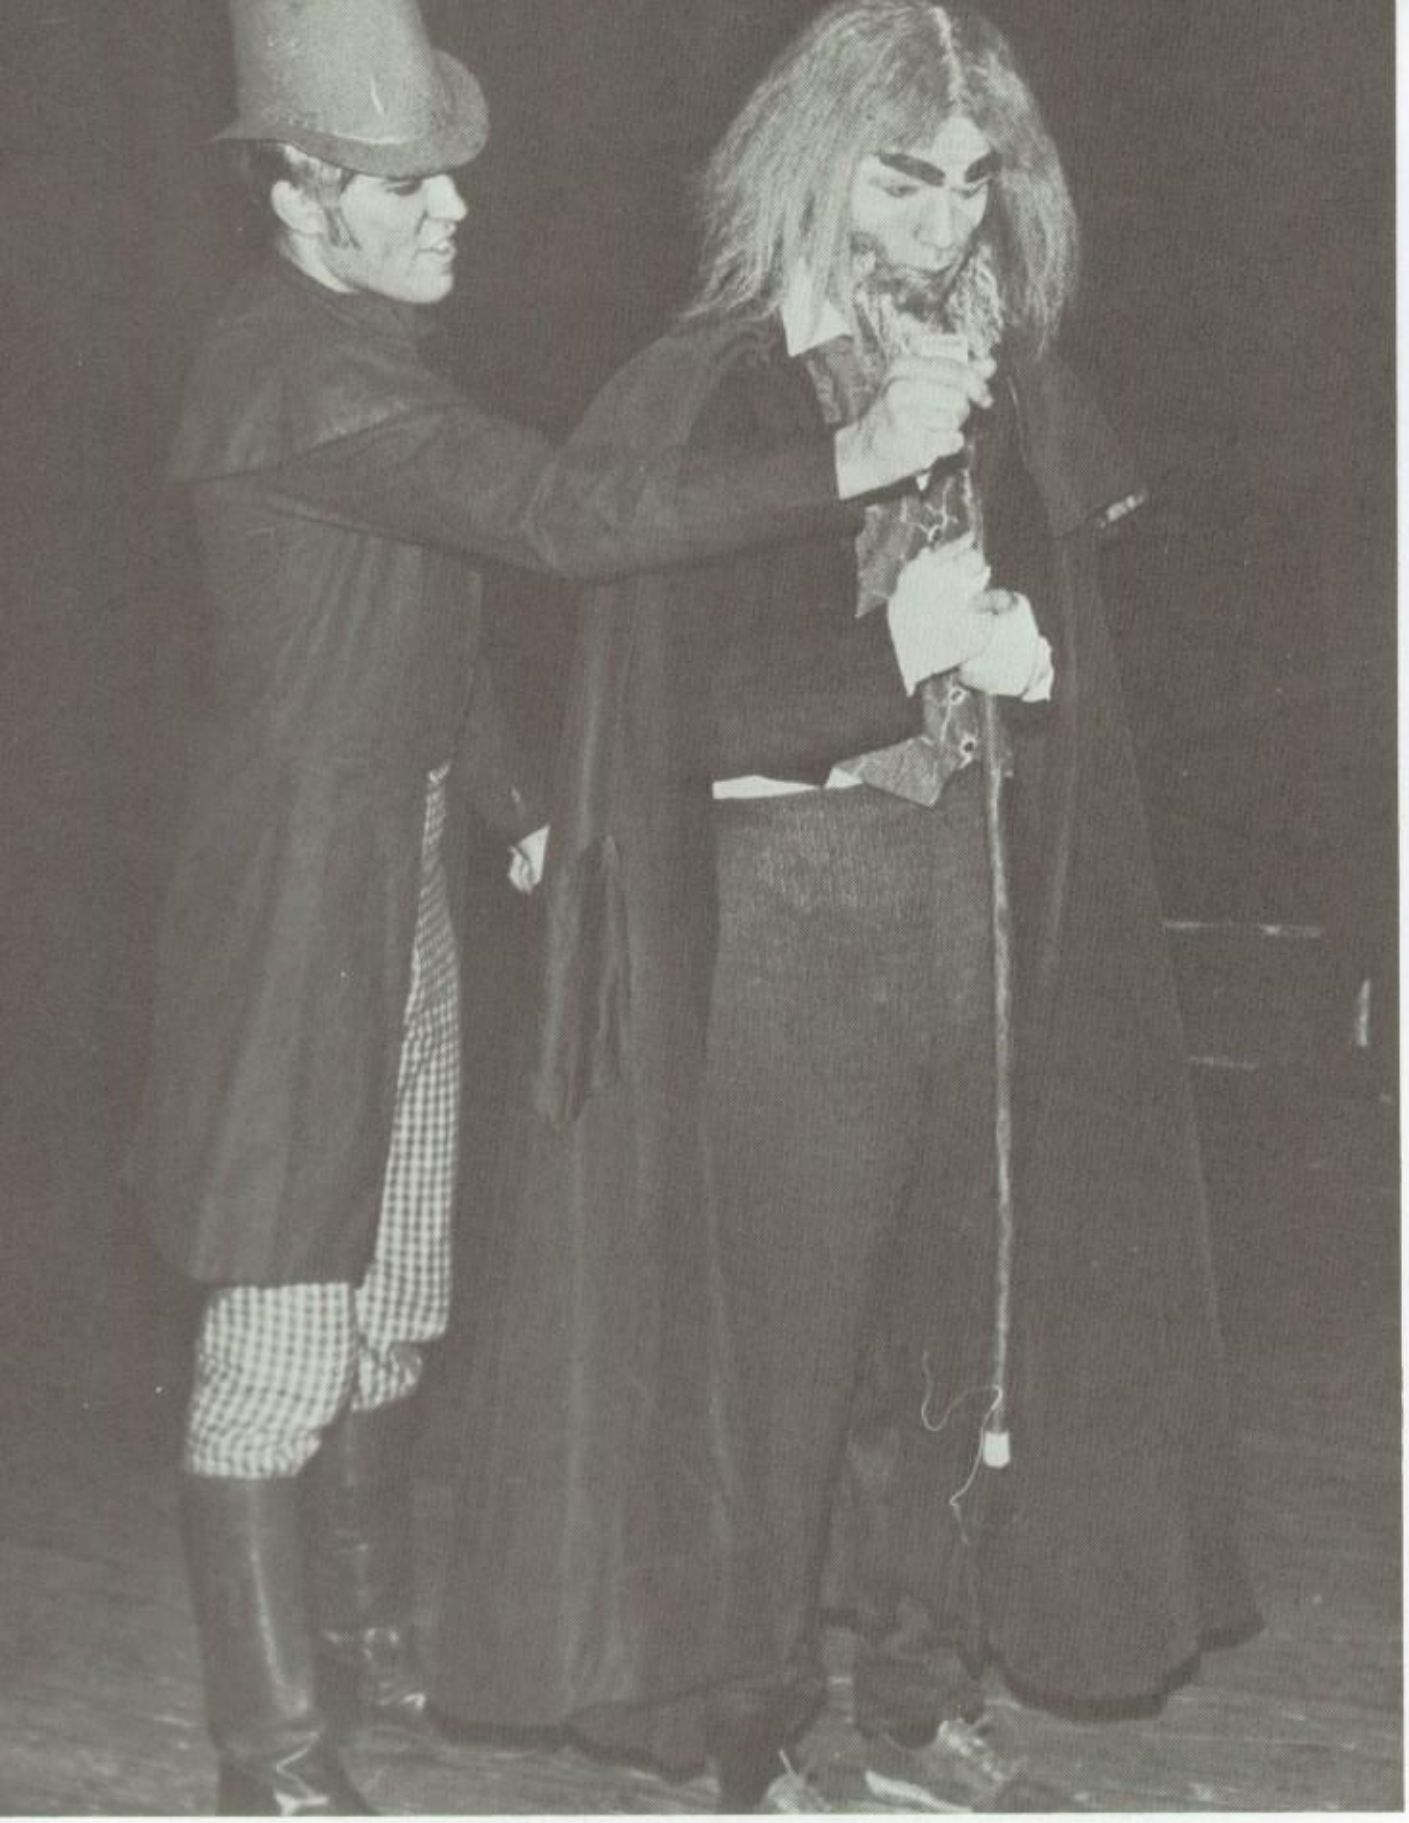
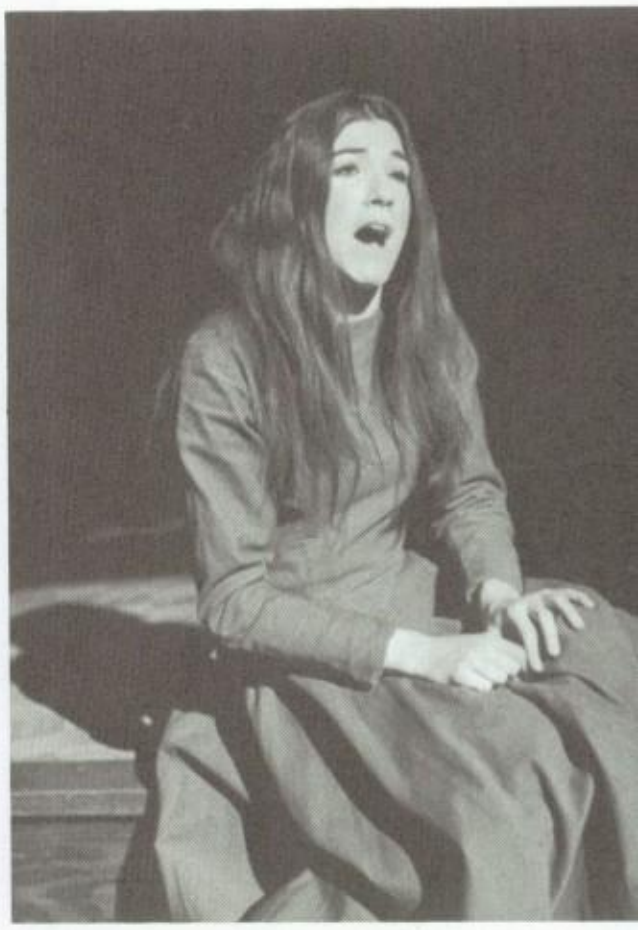
DEATH BY HANGING (left) faces John Procter (Jim Powell) and Rebecca Nurse (Betsy De Croes) for failure to sign a confession of witchcraft. Gene Andert takes them to the gallows.

JOHN PROCTOR pleads with Abigail (Cindy Schmidt) to deny his wife's part in witchcraft.



ALTHOUGH FAGIN, portrayed by Jim Powell, hates to part with the five pound note, Don Wolfe, as Bill Sykes, is determined to get the money as his payment for returning Oliver.



NANCY (Barb Pollyea) pledges faithfulness to Bill Sykes for "As Long As He Needs Me."

Future Tiger

Strains of "I'd Do Anything," "Food, Glorious Food," and "Who Will Buy?" filled the auditorium as the Jackson Players prepared for opening night of "Oliver." Senior Ron Moore felt right at home singing "Consider Yourself" to Oliver since his younger brother Chris, Hamilton eighth grader, held the lead.

Three performances were given by the largest cast in any of Jackson's previous productions, leads and chorus members numbering 50 in all.

Jackson's orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Dan Miller, provided the musical score. The art department and stage crew members worked at designing and constructing the sets. The final performance of "Oliver" was viewed by a capacity crowd.

THE ENTIRE COMPANY of "OLIVER" combine their voices during the finale to sing "Consider Yourself" and "I'd Do Anything." The play ends with Oliver's safe return but the death of his friend Nancy.

DESPERATE ATTEMPTS are made to revive Mrs. Sowerberry (Quincy Erickson) who has fainted.

'Old Hickory' Boasts Over 1000 Subscribers

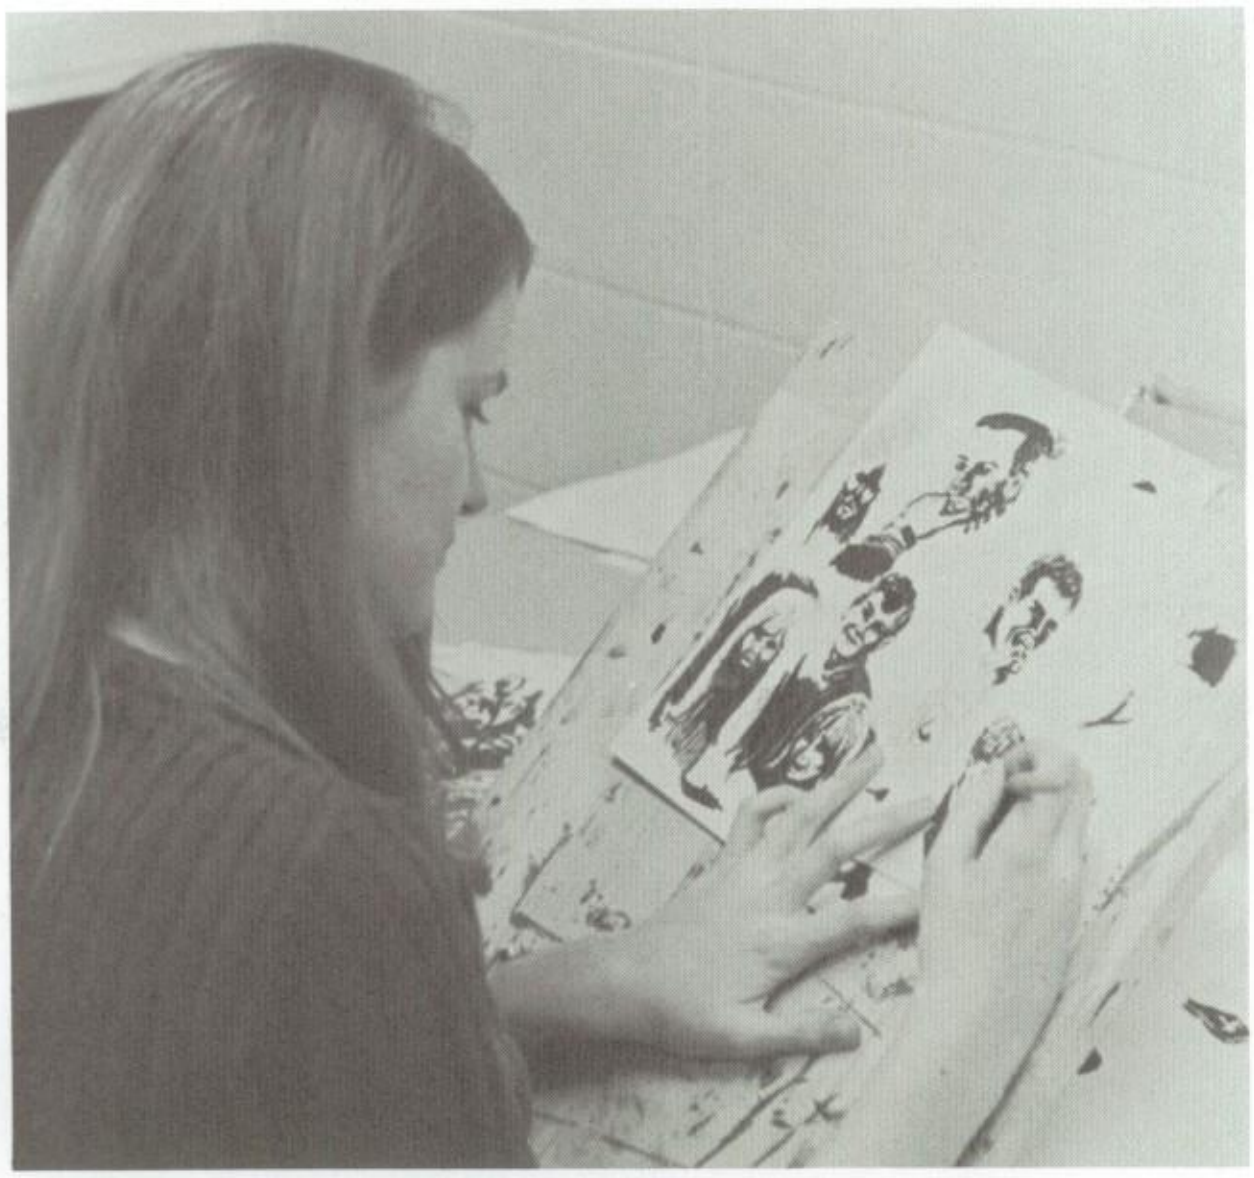
To inform, to entertain, and to influence its readers was the purpose of the Old Hickory. Delivered to the lockers of more than 1000 subscribers every Friday afternoon, it often had six or eight pages. Editors were chosen from last year's journalism class; this year's crop of journalists covered news beats throughout the school. The staff started in September with an assembly to promote the subscription drive and followed with the "Hickory Happening," a coke dance for subscribers. They published a student directory, including names, home rooms, addresses, and phone numbers of all Jackson students.

Journalists participated in area workshops at Mishawaka High School and Valparaiso University. They initiated members into Quill and Scroll, international honor society; and they held a Press dinner in the spring to announce new staff members.

CENSOR LINDA CLARK keeps the publications skit "clean" as Dan McGill moderates.

OLD HICKORY Editor-in-chief Jane Simmons had a weekly deadline to meet. Here Jane does the last minute rewriting and typing before the paper is sent to the printer.

'Jacksonian' Awarded All-American Rating;



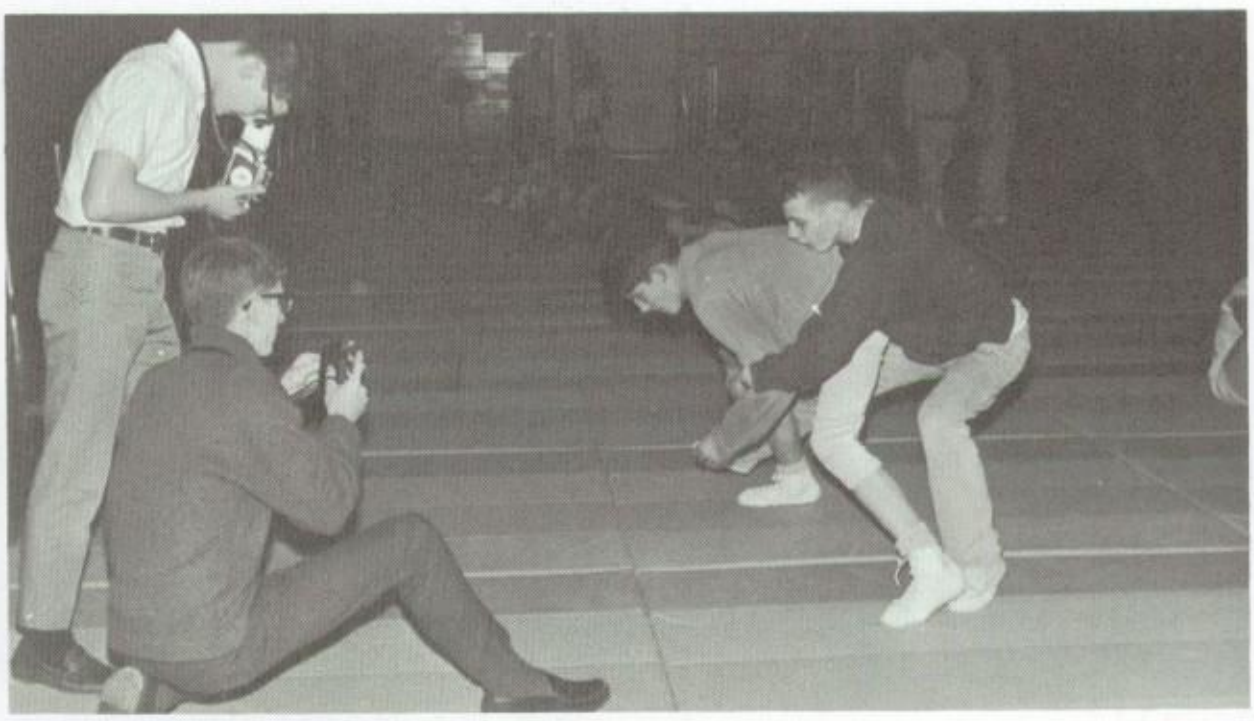
USING INDIA INK and brush, yearbook co-editor Linda Wallen works on sketches for Jacksonian artwork. Linda, a devotee of e. e. cummings, also wrote the divider page poems to create the theme Here and Now.

Congratulations on a delightfully interesting and attractive book." This statement, by Mrs. Mabel Robrock, a NSPA judge, was written about last year's All-American Jacksonian. The rating from the National Scholastic Press Association was based on content, photography, writing, and layout.

Editor-in-chief Linda Eaton and co-editor Linda Wallen attended summer workshops at Indiana University where they made plans for this yearbook. Writing copy was the job of Leaza Gish. Kathy Slott and Kathy Lynas were in charge of the academic and faculty section. Cyndi Sharp and Tami Winters covered clubs and their activities. Marcia Saltzman and Bill Bishop worked on the advertising section. Mike Hostetler covered boys' and girls' sports. Mike Dake and Bill Gates were on the underclass section. Lynn Goltz and Bonnie Gates did the senior section. Bonnie Fenske typed the index, assisted by Tom Bergan.

The junior staff will be a new addition next year. Sixteen students were chosen by application and recommendation. The yearbook staff met daily during fourth hour.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS took part in a Quill and Scroll induction held at Mrs. Lois Claus's home. Marcia Saltzman lights the candle of truth as Jane Simmons looks on.



SCHOOL PHOTOGRAPHERS, Dave Fischgrund (standing) and Jack Drake, take pictures for the Old Hickory and Jacksonian. They can be found at any school event from assemblies to wrestling practice.

Student interest in learning more than required about a foreign country led to the organization of four language clubs. These clubs met after school with their respective sponsors.

Highlighting the year for club members were car washes, bake sales, field trip to Chicago, Christmas caroling, and Roman banquet.

The Latin Club activities included a Roman Christmas celebration and the building of a Roman chariot.

Members of the French and German Clubs earned money to go Chicago in the spring. While in Chicago students saw a movie, ate lunch, and had a chance to do some shopping in Marshall Field's.

"Los Hermanos," the Spanish Club, was led by president Nancy Nuner, who competed in the Foreign Language Honors Program to study in Mexico.

AREA JUNIOR HIGH bands joined Jackson's marching band during half-time.

Twenty-One Musicians Attend State Contest

The floating "J" on the Tiger field during football half times was the result of much practicing on the part of the school band members.

After season they displayed their skills locally. In the annual NISBOVA Music Contest band students took 49 solos and 48 ensembles to Washington High School. Students entered in Group I who received a first rating were eligible for the state contest in Indianapolis. Twenty-one members participated in the state contest, and 14 won firsts there.

Ten band members were chosen to play in the city-wide Honor Band under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Geoffroy, Coordinator of Fine Arts for the school system. The group presented concerts under the direction of guest conductors.

PROVIDING the musical score for "Oliver," the Jackson orchestra rehearsed many hours before the final performances. Mr. Dan Miller conducted the twenty musicians.

Debaters Learn Forensics; Great Book Club

Debate Club, a new organization this year, prepared to compete in the St. Joseph County Forensic League with other area high schools. The topic for the 1967-68 school year was "Crime." One resolution under this included police control.

Mrs. T. F. Sharp, Mrs. G. DeBoskey, Mrs. G. W. Erickson, and Mrs. John Hazlitt sponsored the Junior Great Books Club. Authors studied by the group included Thoreau, Pascal, Twain, DeFoe, Dickens, and Kipling.

With a new total of 9,000 books available in the library, student librarians were a necessity. They helped keep the 189 shelves in order, checked out books and magazines, and filed books with the card catalog.

Future Secretaries Club held meetings at the homes of members. Many guest speakers were included in the club's activities.

Cheerleaders,

Monogram Club was a new addition to extra-curricular activities this year. The 70 members were varsity letter winners. Tim Christman was the club's first president and co-sponsors were Mr. Alfred Bias and Mr. Thomas Meilstrup. Aiding the school in activities and services was the purpose of the club.

The first activity of the Monogram Club was its basketball game with the Faculty All-Stars. Publicity for the event included posters, free miniature basketballs, free tickets to the Marion game, and a free season ticket awarded to freshman Kim Lamar.

A surprising 59-49 final score in favor of the Faculty All-Stars prompted the Monogram Club members to challenge the teachers to another match in the '68-'69 basketball season.

Office Help, JIMs, Ushers Render Service

A "sewing bee" held after school by the Social Service Club provided toys for children in the Studebaker School area. The club planned a Spring Carnival at the County Home and heard talks by VISTA workers and social workers.

Members of the Ushers Club ushered at football and basketball games and at school plays. The Jackson Instructional Materials (JIM) Club operated movies, slides, filmstrips, and tape recordings in the classrooms.

Office helpers were busy collecting attendance slips at the beginning of each period and recording absentees in the office records.

Cheerleaders, Booster Club Induce Spirit

HOMECOMING Queen Bonnie Gates and her escort Bill Bishop enjoy half-time proceedings.

The Booster Club was responsible for building enthusiasm in the school throughout the year. Planning a week of activity before the Jackson-LaSalle Homecoming Game, Booster Club members sold buttons which said "We try harder" in different foreign languages and ribbons with "Go Tigers Go." Climaxing the Homecoming was a victory, the returning of the wagon wheel to Jackson, and another blue spoke in the wheel.

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Maguire and president, Craig Hitchcock, the club planned pep assemblies and made posters which were exhibited in area businesses to promote the Holiday Tourney. Debbie Gordon represented Jackson on the Holiday Tourney court.

Five varsity and five B-team cheerleaders aroused the spirit of the student body in pep assemblies and at the games. Varsity captain Pam Talcott had been a cheerleader for four years.

Tiger license plates, designed by the art department, were sold to help raise money for the GAA banquet and the outdoor school sign.

Here and Now

JACKSON'S first string offensive unit gathers around quarterback Dennis Parrish as he calls signals for the next play. The offensive team averaged 210 total yards and 19.4 points per game.

The 1967 Tiger football team roared to a 7-2 season record under the direction of head coach Wally Gartee. The team lost only to undefeated Marian Regional and Concord. Jackson finished second in the Northern Indiana Valley Conference standings.

The defense, finishing the season with a string of five straight shutouts, was led by All-Conference, All-State linebacker Jim Frame who made 41 tackles and had 41 assisted tackles. John Botich and Doug Krawcyzk, both seniors, also received All-Conference honors.

The offensive attack was led by All-Conference halfback Kim Stickley, who carried the ball 130 times for 590 yards and an average of 4.5 yards per carry. Stickley was also the team's leading scorer with 66 points. Kicking specialist Craig Marten booted 15 points-after-touchdown and scored one TD for a total of 21 points, second only to Stickley.

In its first year of varsity competition the Jackson cross country team got off to a good start, winning its first three meets. However, bad luck in the form of injuries plagued the team in the middle of the season and the Tiger harriers dropped six contests in a row. Not long after the season started, team captain Dennis Lockwood suffered an injury which kept him out of action a good part of the time. But Lockwood was able at the end of the season to establish a school record, 10:09, for the two-mile course at Erskine Golf Course, the site of Tiger home meets.

The performances of Ken Reece and Bob Shaffner were a pleasant surprise for coach Al Davison. Senior Shaffner was the team's most consistent winner and Reece, a sophomore, will be back in the future for the Jackson harriers.

Jackson's first tennis team steadily improved throughout the season to make a respectable showing in Indiana's first State Tennis Tournament. Entering the sectional with a disappointing record of no wins and five losses, the netters defeated Riley, Penn, and Central to finish fourth, only two points behind Washington. The Tigers' first round sectional winners were Mike Dake, singles; Jeff Witt and Bob Bergan, doubles; and Tom Bergan and Dave Hardwick, doubles.

Coach Dave Dunlap stressed fundamentals throughout the season but the team suffered regular season losses to Riley, Mishawaka, and Washington. The Tigers dropped two matches to rival Penn. The team's most consistent winner was senior John Buchanan who won three of five singles matches.

Basketball Team Was Never Out-fought

From a record of 3-19 to a record of 10-12 indicates the improvement made by Coach Bob Taylor's basketball Tigers. The season was highlighted with revenge victories over Riley, Mishawaka, LaVille, North Liberty, and Culver Military Academy. Seven of Jackson's ten wins came in the second half of the season.

Balanced scoring came from seniors Terry Armey and Bill T'Kindt and junior Jerry Tetzlaff. Armey led the attack with a total of 347 points and a 15.8 per game average. Tetzlaff averaged 15 per game on 338 points and was also the team's leading rebounder with 233 for the season. T'Kindt was the second leading rebounder and third highest scorer, averaging 14 points per game. Craig Marten and Bob McKelvey, along with T'Kindt and Armey will be the first seniors to graduate from the squad. Mike Dake, Bruce Vyverberg, John Hummer and Tetzlaff, all juniors who saw plenty of action, are four good reasons why Jackson's basketball future looks promising.

Wrestlers Improve; Kulik Repeats as Champ

The Tiger wrestling team, under the direction of coaches Dale Rems and Steve Herczeg, started off slowly but finished strong to end the 1967-68 season with a 4-6 dual meet record.

Tim Kulik's second consecutive sectional championship was one of the high points of the season along with his first place in the Penn Invitational Tournament. Kulik, wrestling at 180 pounds, was seeded second in the sectional and defeated the No. 1 seeded Central entrant 2-1 by executing a reversal in the closing seconds of the match.

Other highlights for the season were the second place performances of sophomores Charles Ullery, Doug Palmer, and Bob Shonkwiler in the City Tournament. Senior Don Phillips captured fourth place and Shonkwiler took a third in the Sectional competition.

Under the direction of coaches Al Davison and Dave Dunlap, the tankmen won first in the first annual Adams Swim Relays, took second in both the City and Sectional meets, and captured sixth place in the State swimming finals.

John Adams' state champion swimming team was the only city foe to top the Tigers in dual competition. School and pool records were smashed in nearly every meet. Junior Jay Ettl was the City and Sectional diving champion; he and ten other Tiger-fish qualified for the State Meet which was held on February 17, at Bloomington, Indiana.

Tiger Rifle Team Initiates First Season

Interschool rifle competition, sponsored by the South Bend Recreation Department, was held for the first time this year. Interested groups in each of the high schools formed teams to represent their schools. However, due to a lack of someone in each of the schools to organize such teams, Jackson and LaSalle were the only two teams to enter.

After seven weeks of a proposed thirteen-week season, LaSalle conceded the tournament to Jackson. However, two Tigers teams continued to vie for team and individual championship. The number-one Jackson team won the team trophy and Senior Lino Tornero captured the individual championship.

Next year better organization in the schools should lead to a greater number of teams. With increased participation, riflery could become a varsity sport in area high schools.

BREAKING the tape ahead of all competitors, Gordon Wren (above) wins the 100-yard dash.

DENNIS LOCKWOOD (left) was the track team's only entry in the 1967 Regional meet.

In its second varsity season the Tiger track team won nine meets and lost only five. With help from head coach Harry Ganser and assistant coach Tom Meilstrup, many trackmen improved in their events from the first season to give Jackson a well-rounded team.

Many Tiger athletes hold school track records. Kim Stickley and Greg Nall hold the record in the 100-yard dash, Nall also in the 220-yard dash, Andy Sharp in the high and low hurdles. John Shade is the record holder in the two mile event and in the 880-yard run. Other record holders are Dennis Lockwood in the mile run, Bill Gates in the 440-yard run, Cliff and Jim Daniels in the high jump, Daryl Sarber in the shot put, Dave Simmler in the long jump and Cliff Daniels in the pole vault.

Lockwood was the only Jacksonite to qualify in the Regional Meet. Two outstanding freshmen on the team were Doug Palmer and Greg Nall. Almost the entire team was composed of sophomores and juniors who are returning for future track seasons.

Sectional Champions describes the 1967 baseball team. The Tigers reached their peak by tournament time and swept three straight tourney games, downing Bremen 5-3, Plymouth 12-6, and LaVille 6-3 to win the Sectional crown before losing to Clay, 2-1 in the opening round of the Regional. Craig Marten gained one pitching victory in the sectional while Dennis Parrish was winner twice, losing a decision in a real pitcher's duel to Clay's Bill Brooks in the Regional.

Leftfielder Doug Krawczyk was the leading hitter with a .355 average followed by centerfielder Tim Christman at .315. As a team, the Tigers batted a respectable .269. Dale Richards was the leading run producer as he batted in 12 while Pete Miller scored 13 times. Parrish and Marten were the pitching aces, Dennis winning six and losing none, and striking out 53 batters in 50 1/3 innings. Craig was even at three wins and three losses. The Tigers scored a total of 85 runs, averaging 4.25 runs per game in their 20 contests, winning 11 of them and losing nine.

John Miko was the only senior on the squad, so nearly the whole team returned for the 1968 season.

1968 Season Is First for Tiger Golf Team

The Jackson golf team held its first season of competition in 1968 under the coaching of Mr. James Peterson. The golf season began after the Jacksonian went to press so meet results and the team picture were not available for publication. Prospects for the Tiger golf team were good before the regular season began. Six Jackson golfers were among the top sixteen qualifiers in the 1967 City Junior Golf Tournament. They were Terry Armey, Bruce Andres, Bruce Marosz, Doug Vyverberg, Bruce Vyverberg, and Paul Zisla.

Girls Compete

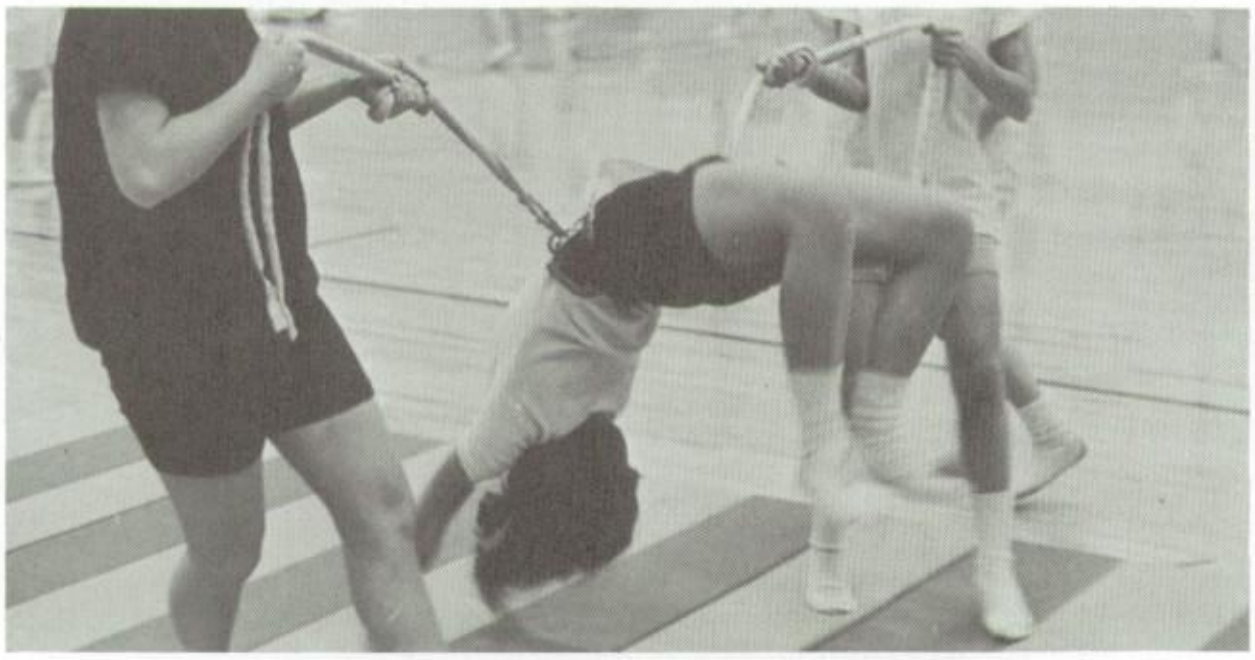
The girls' swim team successfully defended their city championship. Each girl participated in only two events in this year's meets.

Carolyn Haag was president of the Girls' Athletic Association. Members met on Thursday from 3:30 to 5 p.m. and each sport lasted six weeks. Sports included volleyball, softball, basketball, and gymnastics.

A free swim and senior lifesaving were open to all girls. The 50-mile Club was started as a part of President Kennedy's physical fitness program. Members received mileage cards by swimming laps until the 50-mile goal was reached.

SYNCHRONIZED SWIMMERS (called the Tiger Lilies) practiced at the beginning of the year but later disbanded because of lack of interest. The girls practice strokes for the formations.

MEMBERS OF THE Girls' Athletic Association improve talents in gymnastics. To help Lisa Heller perform a back flip two girls hold a safety harness.



GAA MEMBER Jill Daniels participates in an active game of volleyball after school.

School's Youngest Members Elect Officers

As 368 freshmen entered Jackson coming from Marshall, Hamilton, St. Judes, and Greene, there were many changes from their junior high schools. The atmosphere throughout the halls was different . . . the students ranged from 14 to 18 years old instead of 12 to 14. The average height of the boys was 5'11" and the girls were about 5'6".

The academic aspect of school life offered a broader curriculum. Although freshmen were required to take Introduction to Social Studies, Algebra I, or High School Math, English, and Physical Education, they had a choice in foreign language, home economics, business courses, shop, music, art, and science.

The building itself was different from the junior high schools. Jackson had an olympic size swimming pool, an auditorium, a language laboratory, a football stadium, and a photographic dark room.

Competition was a big part of school life. Freshmen competed against each other in academics, class elections, and sports. They even outdid each other in wearing wild costumes at their "Roaring Twenties" party.

ELECTED to lead the class of 1971 were Paul Nash, social chairman; Cheryl Jacobs, secretary; Larry Dunville, president; Gary Van Huffel, vice-president; and Jan Sharp, treasurer.

Second Year Students' Activities Increase

LEADING the sophomore class are Holly Heemstra, secretary; Sue Miller, vice-president; Ronn Kirkwood, president; Gordon Hornbaker, treasurer; and Debby Lytle, social chairman.

The sophomore class was the second largest class this year with a total of 363. Talents were numerous among second year Jackonsites. Dale Anderson was inducted into Thespians for points earned in "The Crucible." Dale acted as Governor Danforth. Betsy DeCroes and Jim Burton also performed in the play.

Madge Marshall, Jack Styles, and Ginny Colten entered projects in the Ford Future Scientists of America contest. Projects included "The Effects of Drugs on Guinea Pigs," "Water Purification Through Reversed Osmosis," and "Non-Euclidean Geometry."

After completing a summer correspondence course, Dan Stump qualified as a student trainer, whose jobs included taping and whirlpool treatments for athletes.

Chris Moeller put in many hours on duty as a candy striper at the hospital. She fed patients, wrote letters, ran errands, and kept the patients company.

Sophomores were lucky at the Hickory Happening as Debby Stein won a three speed portable record player.

Junior Year Brings Class Rings, Status

ARTISTS Craig Loyd and James McGhee receives instruction on their sketches from Mr. Wolf.

With two years of high school experience behind them, a feeling of security and confidence developed in Juniors. However, with this feeling of security came more work and added responsibility.

Those preparing for higher education became more grade-conscious. The PSAT gave Juniors a look into those final entrance exams.

Class officers and pep assemblies became a part of school life and helped unite the Juniors into a working unit.

Along with the Thanksgiving Basket and Christmas Seal drives the responsibility of the Prom belonged to this class.

Class rings were purchased as a permanent remembrance of Jackson life.

As their last year of high school life awaited them the Juniors realized that soon the rights and duties of Seniors would be theirs.

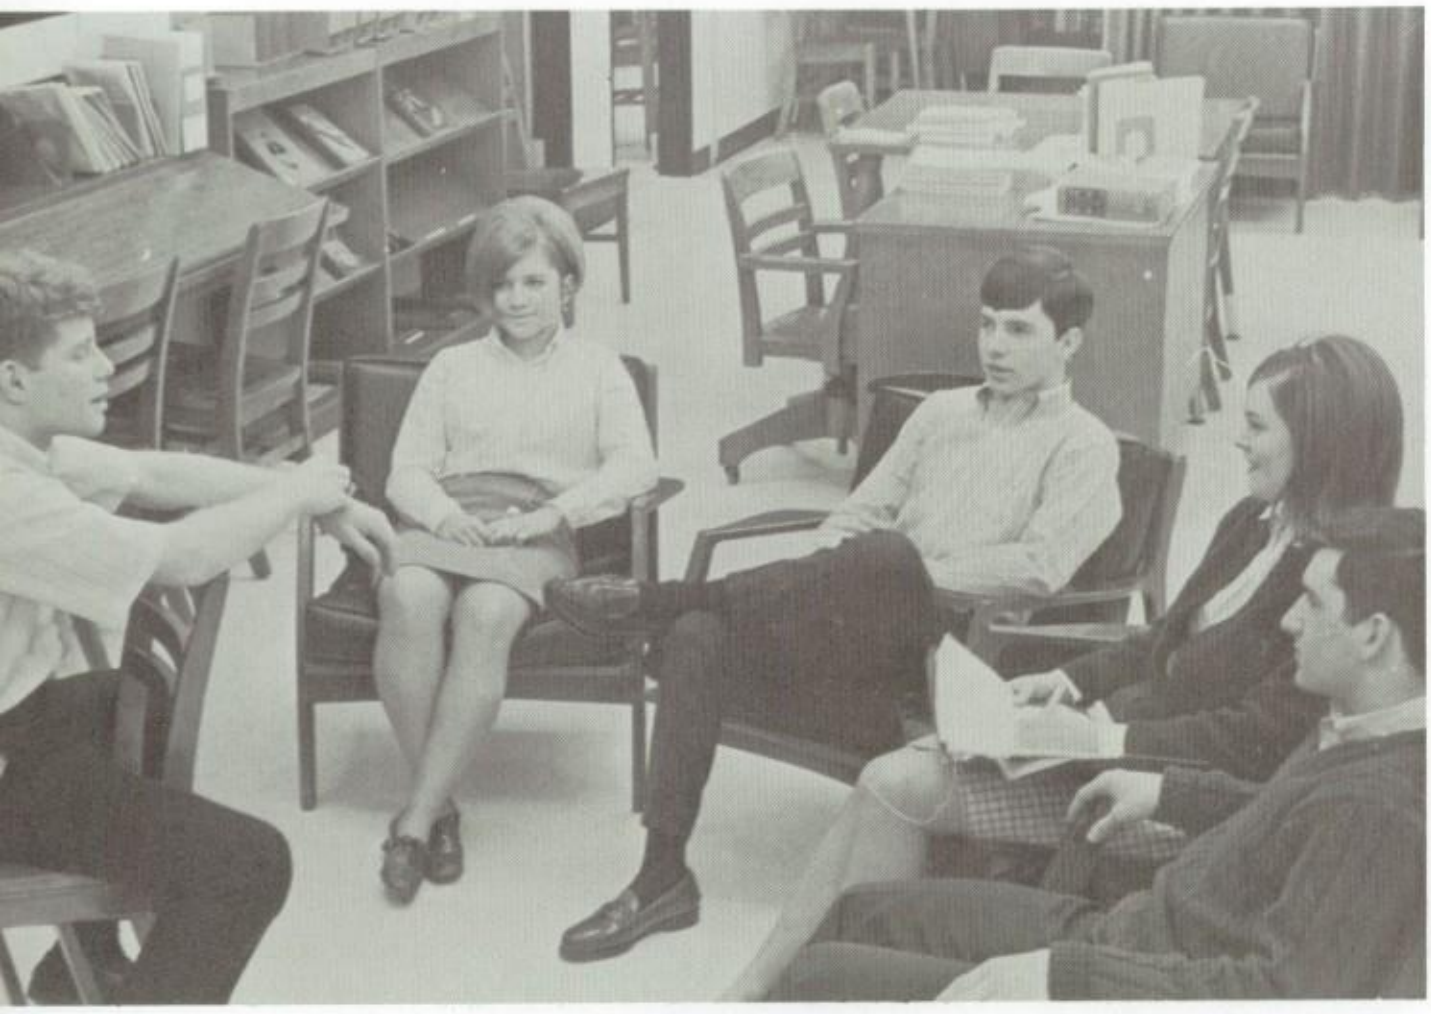
250 Seniors Await Graduation and Careers



DISCUSSING PLANS for upcoming events are Senior Class officers: President Bill Bishop, Social Chairman Pam Talcott, Treasurer Tom Reiter, Secretary Kathy Lynas, and Vice-president Jeff Witt.

Last year 124 seniors were graduated; this year there were twice as many in the graduating class. The year was centered on SAT scores, achievement tests, college applications, and letters of acceptance. For seniors not going to college, job interviews and enrollments at trade and commercial schools were important.

Outside school many students gained recognition. Ron Moore, Cindy Schmidt, and Don Wolfe devoted much time to production during the summer at the Country Playhouse. Taking lessons at the South Bend International School of Judo, Jiu Jitsu, and Karate, Greg Oyler earned the brown belt.

Outstanding in academics, Lauren Whisler, Dan McGill, and Charles Sharp were National Merit Scholarship Semi-finalists. The senior class had seven other students who received Letters of Commendation for their performance on the National Merit Qualifying Test. Charles Sharp, Greg Kinner, and Jim Powell competed in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search.

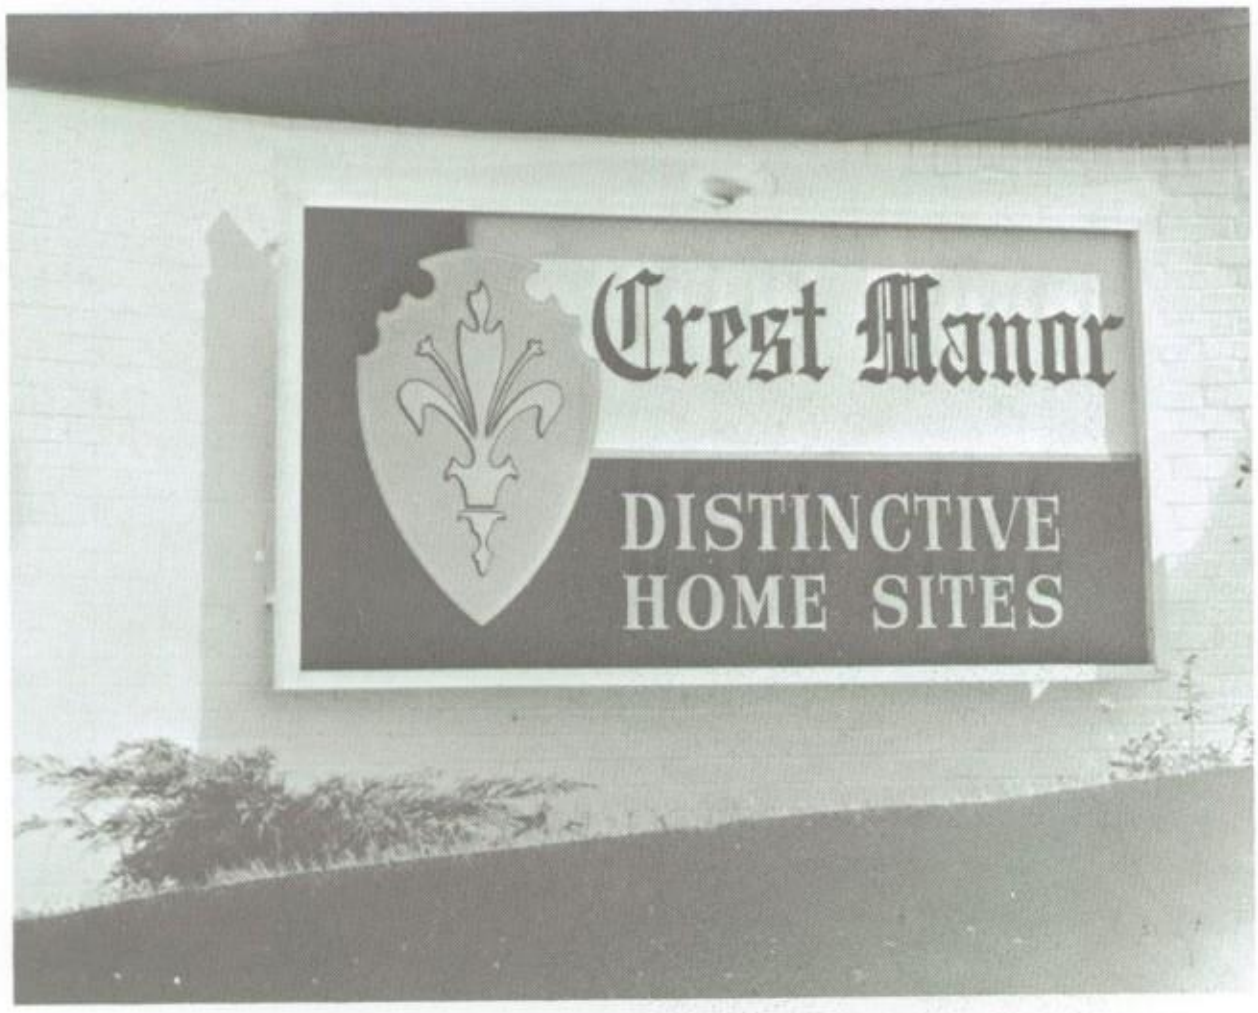
Here and Now

For Homesites in Jackson Area Call ENCO



The community in which we live is a growing one.

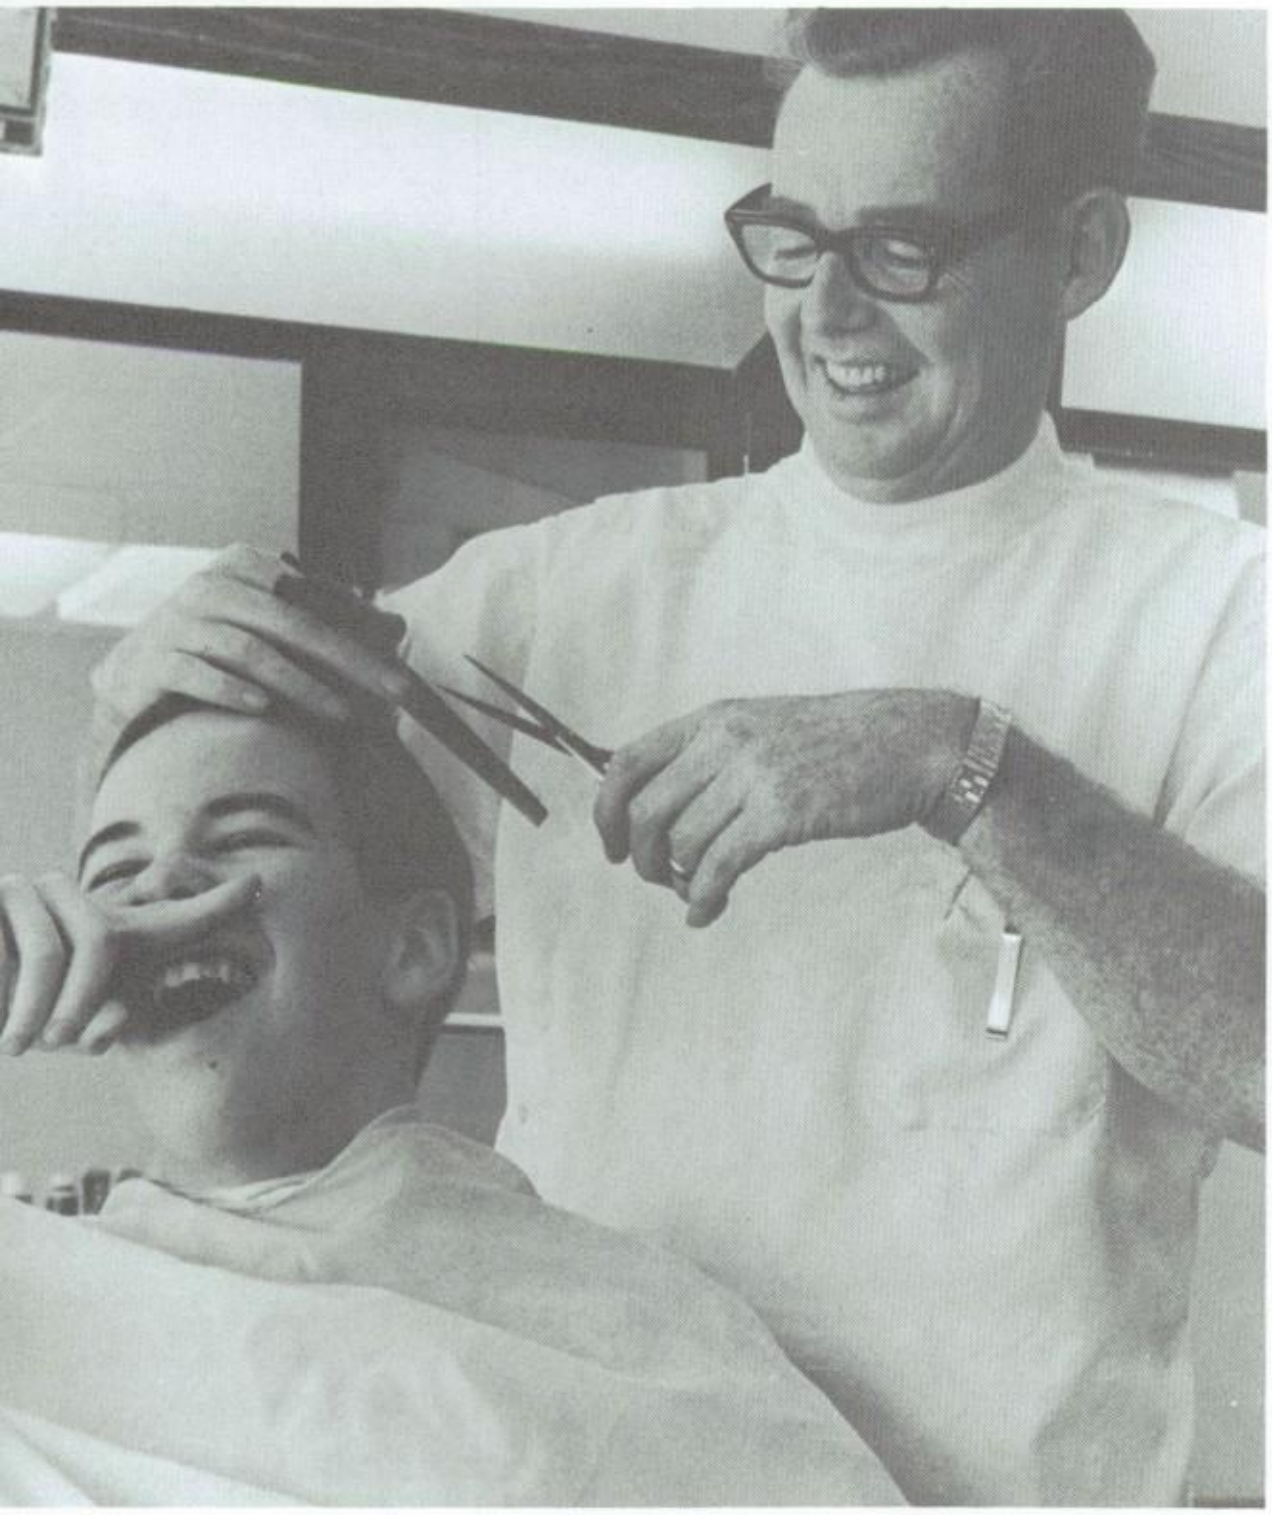
Contributing not only to the growth but to the beauty of the south suburban area surrounding Jackson is Mr. Albert Nall, who developed Crest Manor, Fairfax Estates, and Marshall Heights. All these sections have the convenience of nearby schools, churches, and shopping centers in a quiet country-like atmosphere which attracts many new home owners.

Mr. Nall has been in the land developing and real estate business since 1950. Call ENCO at 291-0061 and make an appointment or drive out and visit these lovely neighborhoods. Al Nall and Associates, Inc., will be glad to help you plan a new home in the Jackson district.

ROLL OVER BEETHOVEN, but not on the floor. INWOODS store, 425 S. Michigan street, offers a wide variety in garden needs, gifts, and chinaware. Jim Willard and Nancy Hopewell grab for the china bust just in time.

HERTEL'S RESTAURANT, 1905 Miami, offers delicious food and fantastic service.

CHOOSING ROLLERS for his sister presents a great problem for Bob Shaffner. Bob Murphy gives him some added advice and confidence at CARL'S SUPERMARKET, 61024 U.S. 31.



OFF WITH THE HAIR! Roger Stahl sneezes as a barber at BROADMOOR BARBER SHOP, 4328 Miami, gives him the best in haircuts.

CAPTURE THE PRESENT FOR THE FUTURE. Linda Sharkey has her senior picture taken by ZEHRING STUDIO OF CREATIVE PHOTOGRAPHY, 514 South West Street in Mishawaka. Mr. Gene Zehring specializes in weddings and commercial photography as well as portraits.

THE FRIENDLY MEN at AL'S BUTCHER BLOCK, 910 Ireland Road, will provide you with fast, dependable service. They offer a wide variety of prime and choice quality meats.

A LARGE VARIETY of men's and women's apparel is available at MAX ADLER'S, 2524 Miracle Lane, Mishawaka. Dick Howes enjoys shopping at Max Adler's where courtesy and high quality prevail.

THINGS GO BETTER WITH COKE! Now that Avis Puckett and Cheryl Newman have finished drinking a case of Coca Cola, they begin on Bubble-Up, another Coke product.

WILHELM HOME EQUIPMENT COMPANY, 60717 U. S. 31 South, offers all home and garden equipment from tractors and snow-blowers to kitchen stoves and household appliances.

FOR EXPERT INTERIOR DESIGN SERVICE offering famous name brands in furniture, come to GRAFFIS FURNITURE, 60379 U. S. 31 South, open Monday through Saturday. Don Phillips and Steve Saltzman admire the display of Heritage traditional furniture.

"SERVICE IS OUR BUSINESS" at EARL'S SHELL STATION, 4502 Miami Road. They offer Super-Shell gasoline and motor oil, motor tune-ups, brake service, wheel balancing, Goodyear tires, and plaid stamps.

CHOOSING TAPE CARTRIDGES for a car can be a hard decision. Marcia Saltzman selects one at SEAT COVER CHARLIE'S, 774 Lincoln Way East.

Students, Parents Patronize Advertisers

FOR SPECIAL OCCASIONS, get red roses from FLOWERS BY STEPHEN, 59645 U.S. 31 South. Mr. Early and Mary Beth Everly wait to present these to the Homecoming queen.

CELEBRATING its 45th year as a Registered Jeweler by the American Gem Society, HARRY E. BERG INC., 109 W. Jefferson Blvd., is pleased to supply Jackson students with their beautiful class rings.

FOR EXPERT MECHANICS and fine dependable service, go up to RUPE'S MOTOR SERVICE, 23502 Liberty Hwy. "At the sign of the Gulf Orange Disk" you will find new No-Nox Gulftane gasolines, and Gulfpride motor oil.

SEE THE U.S.A. IN A CHEVROLET, America's number one car! A Camaro from GATES CHEVROLET, 333 W. Western Ave, South Bend, provides transportation for the Homecoming parade. Enjoying their smooth drive are Vicki Arch, Bonnie Gates, Dick Howes, Bill Bishop and Bill Gates. GATES CHEVROLET offers selection of new and used cars plus friendly and efficient service.

FOR EVERY DAY LOW PRICES go to MOONEY'S MARKET at the corner of Liberty Highway and Mayflower Road. Putting pizza away is sophomore Tom Kurzhal.

FORD'S DAIRY QUEEN, 59573 U.S. 31, South Bend, offers Paul Nash a delectable treat. After a fun-filled day of school work go to FORD'S DAIRY QUEEN for a delicious malt, sundae or cone.

Congratulations.....Class of '68!

Cheering at football games in the stadium, painting Booster Club posters after school, and doing homework are only a sample of the many activities which were a part of our Here and Now.

Long hours of practicing take-downs, lay-ups, and other athletic skills were rewarded by victory after victory in all phases of sports.

Jackson Players performed "The Crucible" and "Oliver" with enthusiasm and pride to capacity audiences. Many were inducted into the National Thespians as a result of their work in the dramatic productions.

Band and orchestra members also brought honor and recognition to Jackson by their fine performances in both state and local contests.

Faculty members shared their knowledge and experiences with us each day in the classroom. They also displayed an interest in the Jackson student body by participating in the Monogram Club-Faculty All-Star basketball game.

Publications staffs worked to produce the All-American "Old Hickory" and "Jacksonian." Mr. Gene Zehring provided photographic facilities for both staffs. Mr. Dick Kennard was helpful as a yearbook counselor from Newsfoto Publishing Co.

Extracurricular activities, serious moments, and experiences that are recorded Here and Now will be poignant memories we will want to recall Now and Then.
